A series of events to give people of faith a voice in today's big debates, to encourage dialogue between communities and develop understanding

THIS MONTH'S TOPIC:

Faith & Disability

WITH KEYNOTE SPEAKERS:

Kitty McGeever

Soap star Kitty McGeever plays Lizzie Lakely in Emmerdale. Kitty is the first blind actor to be given a permanent role in a British soap opera. In her late teens she was diagnosed with Type 1 diabetes, a condition which sent her blind in her early thirties. Born in Bramley and raised in Liversedge and Farsley, Kitty now lives in Huddersfield. She recently received the Jane Tomlinson Courage Award and the Yorkshire Evening Post's Yorkshire Woman of Achievement Award. Kitty is also a seasoned stand-up performer and her TV credits include London's Burning and Beautiful People.

Ajmal Masroor

Ajmal Masroor is director of Communities in Action and provides consultancy and support to media and various government agencies on Muslim issues. He stood in the 2010 General Elections for the Bethnal Green and Bow constituency in East London, representing the Liberal Democrats. He is a broadcaster and regular contributor on national radio and TV programmes, and presents his own programme on the Islam Channel and Channel S. Mr Masroor has also appeared on major news channels such as the BBC, CNN and many others as a commentator on social, political and religious issues.
